

"Ready Made" Proceeds to Go to Prospect Shelter

Junior League's Pet Charity Will Benefit From This Year's Show; Work of Debutantes at Institution Shows Worthiness of Home for Babies

INSTEAD of sending checks to various charitable organizations from the proceeds of their annual entertainment, as in former years, the members of the Junior League will use the money raised this year from their performance of "Ready Made" for their own pet charity, the Prospect Shelter, which occupies a three-story brick house, belonging to the Grace estate, and for which a small fund is maintained. Here babies, whose mothers have to go to a hospital and who have no one to look after them, are taken care of by the members of the league. The home acts as a sort of nursing home for babies who after being started right on formulae, given proper clothing and examined by a doctor, are housed out at nearby homes for a limited period. The league pays the baby's board, $5 and $8 a week, according to age. By this method there is always room for an emergency case at the home.

At the home itself, if the parents are unable to pay a charge of $5 a week, a baby, otherwise the child is taken care of free. One baby recently was taken after whose parents came on from St. Louis. The mother had to go to a hospital and the child was left in the home city of the parents and the league assumed the responsibility. Events had used the transportation to and from St. Louis. Another case looked after were twins who were in an incubator at Coney Island all summer.

To insure that for a trained nurse, three doctors, each of whom take eight months at the home, but the remainder of the work is done by volunteers from the league. It is surprising to find a visit to the home to see these young debutantes, feeding, bathing and nursing for the babies day in and day out. When they offer their services, whether it is for every day, or three times a week, or whatever period, they never fail to put in an appearance.

Some think these young women have nothing on their minds from the time they get up around the noon hour, until they retire late the next morning. At luncheons, receptions, dinners, water parties and dances. A visit to the home run by the Junior League would dispel any such idea, for here the girls may be found every day, working hard and faithfully at their self-appointed tasks. There is a regular rotation of voluntary work, and a girl who accepted a post in one certain number of weeks. It is the personal attention given the babies by these girls, however, that the home now accommodates to babies and ten more are housed after the winter season, but it is hoped soon to enlarge the shelter.

Mrs. Barton James Lee is president of the shelter and among the volunteers are Miss Betty Thompson, Miss Frances Nott, Miss Elizabeth Wood, Miss Katherine Van Dusen, Miss P. P. Schell, Miss Madeline Lynch and Miss Elizabeth Starr.

Mrs. Katherine Francis is the chairman of the entertainment committee and associated with her are Miss Frances Davidson and Miss Ernest Adams.

George Saml, Brooklyn is chairman of the finance committee. Other who have actively interested in the debutantes are Miss Albert Lamb and Mrs. Laurence Rice.

Katharine Keogh Is Engaged to Navy Man

Winter Sports Draw Big Society Crowd to Tuxedo

Eight Inches of Snow and Foot of Ice on Weewah Pond Give Unlimited Opportunity for Outdoor Activity; West Pointers and Tuxedoites in Hockey Match

WINTER sports reign at Tuxedo Park. With eight inches of snow, a foot of ice on Weewah Pond, and clear winter weather, the largest crowd of the season has assembled for a week-end of coasting, hockey, skating, snowshoeing and skiing. Last Sunday the officers from West Point played a hockey team composed of Tuxedoites. To-day another match will be one of the chief attractions for the winter sports enthusiasts.

Tower Hill has been turned into a Mecca for bobsled enthusiasts. There is a run of about a mile which is covered in a few seconds over a minute with a bobsled, but which takes a half hour for the coasters to climb for their next ride.

There are at least twenty hills in the Park where those who prefer skiing congregate. The ice on Tuxedo Lake is covered with about seven inches of snow, but a rink has been cleared on Weewah Pond, and because of the hockey games that is the popular gathering place.

Among those who have gathered this week end for the winter sports are Mr. and Mrs. David Wagstaff, Prince and Princess Braganza, Mrs. Charles J. Coulter, Charles J. Coulter jr., Miss Ellen Trevor, Henry G. Trevor, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Rossiter W. Betts, Mr. and Mrs. J. Insley Blair, Mrs. L. Havenmeyer Butt, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Foster Carey, Mr. and Mrs. William Clearwater, Mr. and Mrs. Garrard Conly, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Goodin, Mr. and Mrs. F. Kingsley Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Delafield, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. de Rham, Frederic de P. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Grenville Kane, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Kernochan, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall R. Kernochan, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Thomas King, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Reed Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Lee, E. Victor Loe, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Loomis, Mr. and Mrs. Griswold Lorillard, Pierre Lorillard, Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop McKim, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lansing McKim, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley G. Morris, Miss N. D. Newbold, Mr. R. B. Carhart, Robert D. Wrenn, Lloyd Wrenn, Mr. and Mrs. Newbold Le Roy Edgar, James Brown Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Eben Richards, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Tiffany, Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Rogers, Miss Millicent Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. George B. George, Mrs. Amos C. Schermerhorn, Mr. and Mrs. William Stackpole, Richmond Talbot and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Van Sinderen.

Those staying at the Tuxedo Club for the week end include Mr. and Mrs. LeGrande B. Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Camden, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Merrill, Lloyd Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Greenville Clark and Mrs. O. J. Brand.

There was considerable interest shown yesterday over the racquet tennis match held in Chicago between James Millin, of the Tuxedo Tennis Club, and Harry Bookes, of the University Club, at Chicago. Major Pierre Lorillard jr., C. S. Lee and George Harris made a trip to Chicago to witness the match. A return match will be held between Millin and Bookes at the Tuxedo Tennis Club early in February and there is considerable discussion among the Tuxedoites as to the ability of the two players. An indoor squash, racquet and tennis tournament is being arranged to be held next month in the Tuxedo Tennis Club. A notice of entrants has been posted in the lobby of the winter club and it is expected that an unusually large list will be obtained.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Delafield will close their Tuxedo villa next week and leave for California. They intend to make the trip by water, going first to Palm Beach and then through the Panama Canal to San Francisco.

Mrs. Price Post and her son, Bruce Post, have closed their cottage on the Pepperidge Road and will spend the rest of the winter in New York City. Mrs. Post is a writer, having written several novels under the name of Emily Post.

Mrs. H. M. Telford and Miss Annette Telford are now at Palm Beach, where they are expected to remain until the spring, when they will reopen their Tuxedo villa.

Charles J. Coulter, son of Mrs. Charles J. Coulter, is to give a bachelor dinner at the Tuxedo Tennis Club late this month. Mr. Coulter is to marry Miss Ellen Trevor, Mr. Coulter's sister and his brother, Henry G. Trevor, are winter sports enthusiasts and now spend their week ends at Weewah cottage, the home of Mrs. Charles J. Coulter.
